SYNTHETIC TURF AROUND THE PITCH

PERFECTLY UTILISE AND VISUALLY ENHANCE OUTER SURFACES

Increasing numbers of outdoor natural grass pitches are being combined with synthetic turf. All areas surrounding the natural grass, starting from the touchlines and goal lines, are thereby edged with Polytan synthetic turf systems. This system offers promising benefits in comparison to previous solutions.

The players also benefit from a playing surface similar to the real thing outside of the actual pitch, so that tackles and one-on-one challenges near the touchlines do not pose a risk of injury.

The sideline areas, which are often subject to heavy use by running linesmen, coaches and players warming up, are always in the best playing and visual condition. For throw-ins and corners, the synthetic turf provides optimum playing conditions in all weathers.

Care and maintenance work can be carried out easily and quickly. Damaged areas (as a result of material damage) can be simply and rapidly replaced. In safety zones, Polytan synthetic turf guarantees that maintenance vehicles can drive and turn without problems on a bound, elastic layer.

Polytan synthetic turf fits in perfectly with the overall appearance of the stadium. Even the training area and area behind the goal can be included in the design.

What's more, synthetic turf provides exciting opportunities for advertising* (logo integration and advertising messages).
